

Seaside Will Pick Officers This Tuesday

Seaside School students will go to the polls Tuesday to choose a new student body president and other student officers.

The youngsters completed their pre-campaign speeches Friday, just like their elders, except that the problems they discussed were on a slightly smaller scale. All candidates expressed their opinions at a school-wide assembly Friday, complete with campaign signs and the usual political hoop-la.

On Tuesday, the youngsters will vote in the privacy of their own polling booths for the following candidates:

President—Jim Harris and Greg Hardy.

Vice president—Basil Gaylor, Gary Hockey, and Tim Roettger.

Secretary—Karen Levenez and Cheryl Donahue.

Sergeant-at-arms—Jim Willis and Jim Berry.

Editor—Nancy Fallor and Tom McCune.

Treasurer—John Calabro, Georgiana Kirkpatrick, Russell Noles, and Jeff Nicholson.

Temple Will Pick Officers

The annual election of officers and board of trustees of Temple Menorah will take place at the regular monthly meeting to be held Wednesday, at 8:30 p.m., at 112½ N. Catalina, Redondo Beach.

Classes to Start June 19

Summer classes will begin at El Camino College on June 19. Leo M. Christian, assistant director of student personnel, announced today. In previous years, summer session has begun on or after July 1. This year, however, classes will open on the first Wednesday following the regular spring semester to enable any students, unable to enroll in desired classes at El Camino, to register in other colleges. Former students will register for these classes on June 17, with new students enrolling the following day. All registration should be completed at the designated time. Christian cautioned, since early entrance in a short session is imperative. Tentative dates for registration for fall classes were also revealed by the college administrator. Currently enrolled students who have made and kept counseling appointments on campus will enroll during a priority registration period Aug. 5-7. Part time students currently enrolled and those who have previously enrolled at the college will enroll Aug. 8 and 9.
